A tutorial project by ARTfora

GET YOUR OWN PERSONAL TUTORIAL

Welcome to the ARTfora audio tutorial project. Let's start with the important things, and probably your number one question:

“What does this service cost?”
– ABSOLUTELY NOTHING!

All costs related to creating the tutorial is covered by ARTfora, an art project supported by art loving sponsors.

This is a project that will try to help you with exactly your issue(s), which you probably have been battling for quite some time now, and you have watched countless hours on YouTube to find the answer but to no avail, it was never exactly what you needed.

That is why we want do a series of video tutorials where we address exactly your issue(s) with your own files, so that you get exactly what you need.

We only have one condition, and that is that we can use your tutorial in the ARTfora app and website, so that other people also get the chance to learn something from it.

We can not promise that it will be in your favourite DAW but if we can not make the tutorial in the DAW of your choice, we will always try to use functions that are generally the same in all DAWs.

What we would need from you to make the tutorial is:

Requirements summary:

- 1. An audio track with all instruments (mixdown).
- 2. All instruments as audio divided into individual files (wav or aiff).
- 3. Sound reference song (optional).
- 4. A description of the issue you want us to address.

We hope that a lot of upcoming musicians, no matter the genre, will appreciate and take advantage of this service/project.

The goal with these free tutorials is to help you and other musicians to excel faster so that all can get better and start creating exactly what they want to create!

IMPORTANT INFORMATION!

The tutorial(s) where we address your issue(s) will be made available for the public, both in the free ARTfora app and online, so if you do not want to share your music with others, this service is not for you.

The goal with these free tutorials is to help you and other musicians to excel faster so that all can get better and start creating exactly what they want to create!

You files will not be shared with anyone except for ARTfora and the people involved in creating the tutorial. All rights to the music (files) still belongs to you, only the right to the tutorial belongs to ARTfora!
